WHAT THE SCRIPTURE SAYS ABOUT GOD:

Blessed are they who . . . seek him with all their hearts. Psalm 119:2

. . . he who comes to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of those who diligently seek Him. Hebrews 11:6

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR THE TEACHER

As teacher, it is assumed that you are functioning as a sponsor for this course. Someone else may be paying the expenses for the curriculum, but you are the one who will be corresponding with the students and grading their papers.

The following information is important for you to understand in fulfilling your responsibility.

1. THE FULL CORRESPONDENCE COURSE PACKAGE

- a. The CC Textbook titled All that the Prophets have Spoken. Each student will need this textbook to complete the course.
- b. The CC Workbook: This book contains 15 lessons which can be removed and sent to you upon completion of each chapter. Each student will need a personal copy of the workbook to complete the course.
- c. The CC Teacher's Answer Book: This is for you only, and gives you the correct answers for the course. As a teacher, you will need only one answer book for yourself.

2. BEFORE YOU PASS OUT A COURSE

- a. We would strongly suggest that before you hand out the course to a potential student, you first read for yourself ALL THE PROPHETS and answer the questions in the CORRESPONDENCE COURSE workbook. Taking the time to do this will make you a much better teacher.

- b. Then, turn to page “iv” of the CORRESPONDENCE COURSE work book, read the complete page and fill in the information.

- c. For your student's convenience, we would suggest that you include 15 envelopes addressed to yourself (size 10 or larger). This assumes you are the course sponsor.

In cases where the student may find it difficult to obtain postage, you may wish to provide the “stamps” as well. This applies only if the postage is appropriate to the home country.

(Example: A US stamp cannot be used on an envelope being mailed from Mexico. A Mexican stamp would be needed.)

3. WHEN PASSING OUT THE COURSE

- a. It is suggested that you not give out the CORRESPONDENCE COURSE on a trial basis. Obtain some sort of commitment to complete the lessons before you hand it out.
- b. Once the student agrees to the study, take a few minutes to explain the mechanics of the CORRESPONDENCE COURSE.
 - i. Give a brief overview of Chapter One.
 - ii. Show them your address on page “iv”, and the self-addressed envelopes you are providing in which to mail the completed lessons to you.

- iii. Point out the information the student will need to fill out at the end of Chapter One. Instruct the student to include this sheet when mailing Chapter One to you.

Include this page with Chapter One when you send it to your sponsor.
Remove by tearing along the perforations.

The following sponsor gave this correspondence course to me:

Name: _____ ID#: _____

Address: _____

My address is:

Name: _____ ID#: _____

Address: _____

Out of respect for the time invested by the above sponsor, my signature below indicates my commitment to completing the course:

Signature of student _____ Date _____

- iv. Explain that, upon checking the answers, you will promptly return the lesson to the student. Make sure you keep track of their grade on the sheet to the left. In the meantime, the student can continue with Chapter Two.

4. WHEN YOU RECEIVE THE LESSONS BACK

- a. The course is designed in such a way that you only need to open a file on a student after the first lesson has been returned to you. This should consist of a data page that includes:
 1. The name of the person who gave the student his or her course (probably yourself, but not always).
 2. The student's contact information and signature committing him or her to the course.
 3. Course Grading Sheet. This is on the back of the contact information.

- b. When you receive Chapter One and the Data/Grading Sheet, take a file folder, write the student's name on it and staple the Data/Grading Sheet inside the folder. This will give you a permanent record of the student's progress even after you return Chapter One to the student.

In this folder, you can also place notations about the student's progress, questions and answers, and any other correspondence. These notations should be for your use only.

- c. The gray bar down the right side of the page contains all the answers that the teacher needs to be concerned about. Each answer line has a little number under it which gives a running total of the number of questions for each chapter.
- d. It is important that upon receiving a lesson, you grade the Chapter and return it to the student immediately. The success of this course is based upon the lessons being completed in a minimal amount of time.

An encouraging personal note added to the end of each lesson is appropriate, but make sure you do not "jump ahead" and answer questions that have yet to be addressed.

If a question is answered incorrectly, do not answer the question yourself. Instead point the student to the appropriate page in ALL THE PROPHETS and let the student find the correct answer.

- e. The boxes titled "Optional" are just that—optional—and are not to be included in the grading. Feel free to comment on them if you notice the student has an incorrect answer.

5. IN CONCLUSION

In Chapter 15 the student will be confronted with a choice to make about the Bible. Is the message of the empty cross and empty tomb true? If the student decides “yes,” then remember that salvation is based on faith alone and not on any particular thing the student must do. You want the student trusting in Christ alone, not in the fact that he or she “prayed” or “filled out a card.” Direct the student’s faith towards Christ. Once you are sure that he or she is trusting only in Him, then the student can pray and thank Him for what he has done.

We place this course in your hands with our prayers that the Lord will use it and you in a wonderful way to lead many to Him.
